Bowls in Bonalbo

Six Bowraville Central School Students travelled to Bonalbo to compete in the Central School’s Lawn Bowls Knockout.

Scores: Round 1—Dylan Atkins, Jacob Grace and Brody Silvia defeated Bonalbo 15 to 7. Tyson Atkins, Steven Voutier and Thomas Townley defeated Guyra 15 to 5.

Round 2: Dylan, Jacob and Brody defeated Guyra 15 to 12. Tyson, Steven and Thomas defeated Bonalbo 30 to 6.

Round 3: Bowra played Bowra—The boys were all worn out by then, so the score was a bit out. Tyson’s team just crawled ahead. The boys have now qualified to play in the Central School Knockout Finals at Dubbo.

Great Effort by all the boys!

PRINCIPAL’S MESSAGE

Thanks and congratulations to all students and staff for making two significant events so successful and enjoyable for all last week. At both our annual Athletics Carnival, and the Community Garden Fair there was a genuine atmosphere participation, enthusiasm and collaboration.

I have attended many BCS Athletics Carnivals now and they are always wonderful occasions. The day is made more special when we have a good number of family and community members joining us as was happily the case again this year. What also impressed me last Thursday was the level of participation among students. There were some great sporting achievements but even those students who perhaps did not think they would win an event made a genuine effort anyway, thereby gaining valuable points for their sporting house and greatly contributing to the fun of the day. Many thanks and well done to all involved.

Our Garden Fair was simply spectacular. A huge thank you to all students and staff who created this special day in our beautiful garden; especially Mr King, who continues to lead and coordinate this very special community learning space.

Have a great week.

-Magical Friends-

One day in the busy city of Dallas North America. Anna was listening to her music when her grandpa yelled out “Anna”.

What grandpa?”
“Get me some water please,” he coughed.

“OK pop,” said Anna.

She went to the kitchen and got her pop a drink, it was cooler than ice.

Later that day Anna’s pop went to the heavens. “He was very sick” said the ambulance man, “that stroke cost him his life”.

“Why?” she screamed at the police. “You let him pass away!” she yelled at the ambulance people. “Where will I live?” she cried.

“With your father,” said the huge humble police officer.

“Fine I will never rely on you again!” she sadly sobbed.

“OK we wish you a happy day” the policeman slowly sighed sarcastically. “Goodbye,” said Anna and she went to pack.

The Travel

First Anna took a cab around Dallas to say goodbye to all her friends and then to the train station. It was bustling, laughing kids and chatting adults. The train trip took four hours and another four on another train. Then she went in a taxi for two hours until she got to the airport. Anna’s aeroplane trip took eighteen hours to Australia. After she arrived in Australia she hitch-hiked for twelve hours and walked up a huge driveway to a farm. She read the sign Meadow Hills farm. She looked around; there were horses of all shapes, sizes and colours. They were beautiful. Anna took a deep breath and knocked on the door.

“Hi you must be Anna, I heard all about you,” said Anna’s stepsister. Belle had her wavy blonde hair with pink streaks in a nice tight pony tail. She also had her riding hat on.

“Hi,” said Anna shyly.

“I see you’ve met my daughter,” said Bliss super sweetly. “Hunter should be back soon!” she exclaimed.

Just then a ute pulled up outside and two cattle dogs jumped out of the back. They bundled Anna over jumping and licking until Hunter said.

“Jackie, Rusty, stop,” and obediently they did. “Hi” said Hunter.

“Hi,” said Anna. “Just wondering where my room is I have letters to write and is there any internet or connection around here?”

“Right this way,” said Hunter “and sometimes we have internet connection.”
